MEMORANDUM OPINION

Before the Court is Defendant's pro se Motion to Reduce Sentence under United States Sentencing Guideline Amendment 821 [Doc. 1150]. Pursuant to Standing Order 24-05, Federal Defender Services of Eastern Tennessee has filed a notice that it does not intend to file a supplemental motion at this time [Doc. 1164].

I. BACKGROUND

On August 4, 2021, Defendant pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine [Docs. 181, 188]. With a total offense level of 31 and a criminal history category of IV, based on nine criminal history points, Defendant's advisory guideline range was 151 to 188 months [Doc. 257, ¶ 84]. At sentencing, the Court departed from the guideline range and sentenced Defendant to 120 months [Doc. 747, pg. 2]. Defendant is currently housed at FCI Aliceville with a projected release date of August 27, 2028. See Bureau of Prisons, <https://www.bop.gov/inmateloc/> (last visited May 31, 2024). She now seeks a sentence reduction pursuant to Guideline Amendment 821 [Doc. 1150].

II. ANALYSIS

“A district court may modify a defendant’s sentence only as provided by statute.” United States v. Johnson, 564 F.3d 419, 421 (6th Cir. 2009) (citation omitted). Relevant here, 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) authorizes a court to impose a sentence reduction when a defendant “has been sentenced to a term of imprisonment based on a sentencing range that has subsequently been lowered by the Sentencing Commission . . . after considering the factors set forth in [18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)] to the extent that they are applicable, if such a reduction is consistent with applicable policy statements issued by the Sentencing Commission.” 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2).

Amendment 821, which took effect on November 1, 2023, altered the application of the guidelines with respect to offenders who earned criminal history “status” points based on the commission of an offense while serving a criminal justice sentence or offenders with zero criminal history points at the time of sentencing (“zero-point offenders”). Composed of two parts, Amendment 821 amended U.S.S.G. § 4A1.1 to reduce or eliminate status points and created U.S.S.G. § 4C1.1 to reduce the offense level for zero-point offenders by two levels. Pursuant to § 4A1.1, status points are eliminated for defendants with six or less criminal history points, and one status point, rather than two, are applied for defendants with more than six criminal history points.

Defendant moves for a sentence reduction under the first part of Amendment 821, U.S.S.G. § 4A1.1. At the time of sentencing, Defendant received two status points for committing the offense while under a criminal justice sentence in Washington County, Tennessee [Doc. 257, ¶ 54]. If sentenced today, Defendant would receive one status point under U.S.S.G. § 4A1.1, reducing her criminal history points from nine to eight. But Defendant would still be in criminal history category IV and her advisory guideline range would remain the same. Accordingly, Defendant is ineligible for a sentence reduction under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2).

III. CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated herein, Defendant's motion [Doc. 1150] is DENIED.
